

Location and physical feature of Tripura

Tripura State situated in the North –East of India lies to the South East of Assam and to the East of Bangladesh . It is located between 22*56' and 24*32' North latitudes and between 91*10' and 92*21' East longitudes . The State covers with National and Inter National boarder an area of 10.477 sq. km. Its length of Inter National boundary line with Bangladesh measures 839 km. and National boundary with Assam and Mizoram are 53 km. and 109 km. respectively .

The physical surface of the land is dotted with hills and hillocks, shallow and narrow valleys . The hill ranges of this state are Jampui, Longtrai, Sakan, Atharamura and Baramura . The average height of all these ranges between 1000 ft. and 3200 ft. The hill ranges of the State can not be stated as mountain status as its highest peak Betlingsib only 3200 ft. high which situated at Jampui hill, North Tripura District . Eye-stop beautiful scenic green cover hill and its famous yellow gold oranges ever touch the heart with joy to every visitors . The people of the hill enjoy the romantic spring all the year long . And the spring never ever leave that hill .